We are pleased to be presenting this two-day weekend tour to the Nation's Capital. A licensed DC Guide will be escorting us around the Washington D.C. area, where you'll be learning about the city, seeing the various Memorials honoring the men and women who have served our country. Some of the sites include the F.D.R., Lincoln, WWII, Jefferson Monuments, other various government buildings and Embassy Row. Our accommodations will be at a full-service hotel that will be including breakfast in the morning.

On Sunday the coach will be taking you to Arlington Cemetery, the final resting place of over 14,000 veterans that served as far back as the Civil War. We'll have plenty of time to see the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, the John F. Kennedy Eternal Flame and a number of other tributes in this cemetery that continues to conduct 27 - 30 burials a day. And, before departing for home with a mid-afternoon luncheon, we will be making a visit to the Smithsonian Institute with its 19 museums and 9 research centers.
