The Hartville Marketplace & Flea Market has always been enjoyed by our passengers, not only for their large selection of items but also for the savings. This complex offers indoor vendors in their 100,000 sq ft, two-story building as well as additional outdoor flea market space with a roof covering. We understand that a brand new third building, a 60,000 sq. ft. hardware-type store, should be opening by this date, making an additional point-of-interest for the men on the tour.

After a couple of hours of shopping, the bus will arrive to load your purchases and to transport you a short distance to the beautiful colonial-style inn & bakery where you have several choices for your luncheon entree serving the "best in homestyle cooking", including "real mashed potatoes". Afterwards you'll have some time in the collectibles shop and the Thomas Kinkade Signature Gallery. It has a large clock showroom, their own candy shop, Christian figurines, an area devoted to beautiful dolls and a country bakery.

We'll then travel over to the new Holmes County Flea Market. If you haven't seen this spotless new shopping area you are in for a surprise. It has many Amish-made and hard-to-find items. Before heading home, we'll be stopping at a cheese chalet for shopping with complimentary samples of the various cheese they offer, a delicious conclusion to our day of shopping and browsing.
