With as many people interested in vehicles (cars, trucks and even manufacturing), we've added this tour that we first operated last year. We'll be touring the Rahal Letterman Lanigan Racing Headquarters, an organization with a long history of winning drivers. The original driver, and founder, was of course, Bobby Rahal. The organization is also owned by Mike Lanigan and CBS Late Show host, David Letterman. The tradition continues as the current world-class drivers demonstrate their skills behind the wheel. We will be seeing the cars, machine shop, trophy room and even the transport bay where the large trucks are carefully loaded to move the race cars and supplies.

We will be visiting a local chocolate company and having a luncheon before visiting a company that builds fire trucks, one at a time, and has a collection that ranges from fire trucks to American and British historic cars such as Cadillacs, Lincolns and Bentleys. Since we are in the area, we'll be stopping to visit the Flag Lady. Patriotism is not a forgotten word at this store that sells only American-made products. This is certainly one of the interesting tours coordinated by the professionals at Great Day! Tours.
