FORWARD THINKER / RESPECTFUL PAST

Back in 1934, a local farm boy with plenty of vision, determination and mechanical ability founded a woodworking company that has become a world leader in ready-to-assemble furniture. He was also a forward thinker, aware that the past paved the way to the future and wanted to document those ancestors who settled in Northwest Ohio in the mid-1830's. He had dozens of structures built by hand a century earlier moved from various locations to create a village.

Today it has been expanded to include a 350-seat restaurant, a country inn and a performance center. We will have about four hours to explore the buildings, visit the craft and retail shops and to dine in their popular restaurant. ORIGINAL JACKSON HISTORIC PRISON TOUR

The first building to house prisoners in 1838 was a wooden fort that held the first 35 prisoners. The escape of ten inmates hastened the building of a genuine brick and mortar penitentiary. By 1882, Michigan's First State Prison (1838-1934) was the largest walled prison in the world. Within its walls, the factories and surrounding farms, manned by cheap inmate labor, turned Jackson into one of the leading industrial cities in the nation. The prison, originally planned for 800 prisoners grew to house over 2,000 inmates and necessitated a larger, more modern prison a few miles north. The old prison closed in 1934. On the Original Jackson Historic Prison tour, enjoy lively, interactive stories of inmates past and present, prison lore and more. Walk inside the massive walls as bygone prisoners, guards, and wardens come alive with tales of corruption, mayhem, punishments and relief. Lunch is included during the tour.
